Ike Says Democrats Silly To Itch for Politicking

Congo Invasion Thrust Viewed As Improbable

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba's threats to go it alone raised new uncertainty and anxiety here today, but even the Congolese did not take seriously his threat to invade Katanga province.

The diplomatic community and U.N. officials awaited the return of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, probably sometime Thursday, to see how he deals with Lumumba in carrying out the U.N. Security Council's new mandate to replace the Belgian troops in Katanga with U.N. troops.

Commanders of the 12,000-man U.N. force were confident a detachment would enter the dissident province soon, and without any shooting.

In Katanga, provincial Premier Moise Tshombe backed down on his threat to fight the U.N. troops and laid down conditions for them to enter the territory he has declared independent of Lumumba's central government.

Tshombe said the U.N. troops could only enter if none came from Communist or Communist-influenced countries and if the U.N. did not intervene in Katanga's internal affairs. Tshombe said his government retained the right to bar anyone from Lumumba's government from the province and that Katanga and U.N. troops would jointly guard all roads into the province.

The feeling in Elisabethville, the Katanga capital, was that Hammarskjöld would accept Tshombe's conditions in view of the latest Security Council resolution promising to keep hands off the internal dispute. But such acceptance was certain to bring new blasts from Lumumba.

Lumumba's reception during his two-week tour of North America and Africa obviously had given the lanky, 35-year-old premier new assurance and flamboyance, which he displayed as he told a news conference Tuesday he had declared a state of emergency, ordered all Belgian consulates closed, would restore order with the Congo's disorganized army, would bring Katanga to heel and would develop the Congo "with our own hands—we do not need technicians."

But the Congo army has not been anything like an organized force since it mutinied against its Belgian officers early last month and went on a rampage of pillage and rape. Getting it into Katanga without massive transport aid from foreign nations would be virtually impossible.

He termed his "bipartisan" birthday and also to give a general accounting of his activities during the past year.

They included:

Attendance at 35 public functions, delivery of 20 speeches ("without a ghost writer"), answering 21,195 letters, acceptance of 23 awards, 14,000 miles of travel, television appearances, cornerstone layings and the raising of $1,200,000 or more for his pet project, the Boys Clubs of America.

"I hope you will conclude that I have not ceased work," he said smilingly to a roomful of reporters and photographers. He said he hadn't intended to hold a birthday news conference this year.

"I thought we had done that stunt often enough," Hoover remarked with a grin. "However, that idea met many protests."

He voiced pleasure at receiving "many touching tributes from both sides of the political area."

"I have many friends on the other side," he added.

Hoover said he also was gratified by an avalanche of favorable comment on his most recent "farewell speech" at the Republican National Convention.

He Drives 30 Years Without Driver Permit

SENECA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Police said Louis Phillips, 50, had been driving for 30 years without a license. When they halted his car Monday on a routine check and asked to see his license, Phillips told them he mislaid it in 1930 and just never got around to getting another one.

Ohio Diplomat Tapped

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has nominated Charles R. Burrows of Willard, Ohio, to be ambassador to Honduras. Burrows, a career diplomat, has been minister-counselor at the U.S. embassy at Caracas.

Dems Stamp Hurry-Up Tag On Top Legislative Items

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic leaders put a hurry-up tag today on major legislation for which they hope to claim credit in the presidential campaign.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas passed the word he wants some committee action this week on a bill to provide medical care for the elderly. A meeting of the Senate Finance Committee, which is considering the measure, was called for today.

Johnson already has on tap for Senate consideration a measure to raise the minimum wage from $1 to $1.25 an hour and to add from three to five million workers to those now covered by it.

The road to action on these politically potent proposals was cleared when Johnson, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, rallied party members Tuesday to scuttle an Eisenhower administration civil rights bill that threatened to provoke a time-killing filibuster.

The bill was shelved by a 54-28 vote that followed party lines.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois protested he had no political motives in mind in offering the measure. But Democrats denounced it as "political byplay" calculated to demonstrate their party is split on an issue rated highly important to strategically placed minority voters.

The measure would have provided statutory authority for a presidential commission to supervise fair employment on government contracts and would have authorized federal aid for desegregating school districts.

Sens. Hugh Scott (R-Pa) and Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.) predicted the Democrats will be sorry for their action in killing the measure.

Scott, one of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's top advisers, said the Democratic platform had "promised everything this side of paradise" but that Senate Democrats had washed out this pledge.

Keating viewed the use of a motion to table (kill)—which cuts off debate—as a part of grand design of the Democrats to use "their two-thirds majority to run roughshod over the minority," ignore Eisenhower's legislative proposals and enact their own program.

But Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic presidential nominee, called the Republican move "eleventh-hour politics."

"The intention of the Republicans today was to use civil rights legislation to block enactment of bills for federal aid to education, housing, medical assistance to the aged and the lifting of the minimum wage," Kennedy said.

17 Lives Lost Tuesday In Accidents in Ohio

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seventeen lives were lost in Ohio accidents Tuesday 12 of them in traffic mishaps.

In one of the worst accidents of the year, six members of a Detroit, Mich., family were fatally injured in the collision of a truck and an automobile on U. S. 30 west of Van Wert.

Three others, all of Steubenville, were killed in a similar accident on U. S. 40, east of Cambridge.

A young couple married two weeks ago were fatally hurt in a two-car collision on a Dayton street, and a student nurse lost her life in an accident near Hamilton.

Ohio also had one death in the crash of an airplane near Marietta, the drowning of a boy at Coshocton, the electrocution of a worker at Franklin and the asphyxiation of a Muskingum County youth by blackdamp gas from a mine at Roseville.

The dead in the accident 10 miles west of Van Wert were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Walton, their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wilma Jean Walton and her two sons 2 and 8 years old and daughter, 6.

Thomas Elwood Shute, 26; Brenda Zahransky, 18, and Chester Jelski, 32, lost their lives in the crash east of Cambridge.

William Earl Blevins, 19, and his wife, Lois, 18 were fatally hurt in Dayton.

Shirley Adams 18, of Trenton, a student nurse in Hamilton, was crushed to death by a truck which toppled over on her car.

The plane accident fatally injured 78-year-old Herman Edwin Edwards of Wheeling, W. Va., the pilot who was flying alone.

Steven Schermer, 7, drowned while wading in a creek seven miles northeast of Coshocton.

William Vaughn, 19, was electrocuted in the crash of a one-story addition to the Johnston Paper Bag Co. collapsed under the weight of accumulating rainfall.

Police said the water was three to four feet deep when they arrived on the scene and was gushing out the doors. Ironically, the collapse of the roof touched off the building's sprinkler system.

Alaska Counting Ballots Slowly

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A record number of votes cast in Tuesday's Alaska primary election were still being counted today and Juneau's future as the state capital was still in doubt.

An emotional campaign over the capital move proposal initiative No. 1, coupled with generally fair weather, brought out an extremely heavy vote.

Southeastern Alaska, where Juneau is located, gave the proposal to move the capital a beating.

With 70 of 298 precincts counted, there were 2,987 votes for the capital move proposal and 8,854 votes against it.

But of the 70 precincts, 50 were in southeastern Alaska, where the vote on the proposal was 247 yes and 8,199 no.

How To Boost Salaries

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The Berkeley School Board Tuesday night approved an eight per cent salary increase for teachers and school administrators — after they cut 38 employees off the payroll.

Legislation Called Most Important Task

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today it is a little bit silly for Democrats to contend it would take many weeks to enact the legislative program he has proposed.

Eisenhower told his first news conference since July 6 that he thinks it is more important to the country for Congress to stay on the job and pass legislation than to go home and campaign.

One cannot simply say, Eisenhower continued, that politicking is more important than the nation's business.

In a wide-ranging discussion of domestic and foreign issues, the President said among other things there are no signs now of any economic recession or depression ahead for the country.

In the international field, the President said he had given no thought to having any personal conference with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev if the latter comes to this country for the United Nations disarmament conference or the U.N. General Assembly session.

Eisenhower said, however, that if he concluded any useful purpose could be served he would not hesitate to meet with the Soviet Premier.

Khrushchev hinted in an interview published in Pravda, the Soviet Communist newspaper, Tuesday that he might visit the U.N.

In the domestic field, Eisenhower said that when he invites congressional members of both parties to sit down with him soon he has no intention of lecturing them on how they should carry out their duties.

He said he would explain the international situation as he sees it and report on some changes he has made in his own program.

Eisenhower struck back at Democratic criticism of his defense program and the 21-point legislative proposals he sent the Senate when it reconvened Monday.

Specifically, Eisenhower said that he has not frozen 621 million dollars in defense funds voted by Congress as charged by Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee and Senate party leader.

There is no reason to say, Eisenhower declared vigorously, that these funds will not be spent.

The President said the Democratic Congress had cut his budget request 1 1/2 billion dollars but had added $1,100,000,000 for purposes he had not outlined. The rejuggling of this is not done in a few weeks, he added.

He could not say, he continued, that the defense money had been frozen. He said it had not been put before him in any such terms.

Eisenhower said that if Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, has any differences with him on the defense issue, Nixon has not made these known.

The President said that so far as he is concerned he has no objection to Nixon's having press conferences and saying what he pleases. With a grin, he commented that Nixon's opponents certainly speak out.

Eisenhower added that he thinks that when Nixon talks, the vice president will be saying the

U.S. Air Attache Ousted by Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today ordered the expulsion of Col. Edwin M. Kerton, air attache at the U.S. Embassy, and delivered a warning to his assistant, Capt. Irving T. Macdonald.

"Recently together with his assistant, I. T. Macdonald, Kerton was apprehended while photographing military objects during a trip to Kurgan," a statement said.

Kurgan is an important railway junction in the southwest part of the Russian republic. It is near Sverdlovsk, where Francis Gary Powers—now facing trial as a U.S. spy—came down on a flight in a U2 reconnaissance plane on May 1.

Safety Philosophy Told

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A bug trailer truck moving through here had this bit of traffic safety philosophy written in dust on its rear: "The hurrie I go, the behinder I get."

Missing Yanks May Aid Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) said today that two missing employees of the national security council "now are behind the Iron Curtain" and may be able to aid Soviet intelligence forces.

"There is no doubt in my mind that they are now behind the Iron Curtain," Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, told a reporter. "An intensive investigation still is under way."

Russell has been in close contact with top Defense Department officials who have been investigating the disappearance of Bernard F. Mitchell, 31, of Eureka, Calif.; and William H. Martin, 29, of Ellensburg, Wash., former trained mathematicians for the top-secret security agency.

All Religious Cults in Cuba Get Assurance

President Speaks After Roman Catholic Threat Is Sounded

HAVANA (AP)—President Osvaldo Dorticos early today assured the Cuban people Fidel Castro's regime will continue "respecting all religious cults" despite "provocations."

Speaking at a post-midnight labor rally, the president made no specific mention of the Roman Catholic hierarchy's pastoral letter last Sunday warning of the advance of communism in Cuba. Nor did he refer to the threat Tuesday by the archbishop coadjutor of Havana to close all Catholic churches on the island and suspend church services unless the government calls off pro-Castro.

But in an apparent reference to the pastoral letter, Dorticos said: "Those imputations will fall into a void and they will be applauded only by those who have interests that demand that applause."

The president accused "counter-revolutionaries and pro-imperialists" of "wielding religious sentiments against the Cuban revolution."

"They are useless maneuvers and will destroy themselves," Dorticos declared. "All this will have to be defeated. Our energies must be reserved for greater battles."

Dorticos spoke a few hours after a demonstration outside Havana Cathedral sent the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Evelio Diaz hurrying to the presidential palace with a warning that he would close all Catholic churches in Cuba today and declare the church "in silence"—the Vatican's term for the church's restricted operations in Communist countries—unless the government guarantees the safety of churchgoers.

Msgr. Diaz has taken over administration of the church in Cuba as a result of the poor health of Manuel Cardinal Artega, 80.

There was no immediate official response to the archbishop's threat. A well informed church source said the churches actually would not be closed today.

The demonstration outside the cathedral was the third since July 17, when anti-communism was manifested publicly at a church service in the cathedral.

A gang of youths assembled outside the building during a high Mass in honor of Cuban priests. Eye witnesses said the youths some armed with steel bars and wooden clubs—shouted "down with the Pope" and "down with priests" and struck several worshippers as they left the cathedral.

Communications Blacked Out After Military Coup in Laos

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—A communications blackout today cloaked the situation in Laos where a rebel army group seized the administrative capital Tuesday and proclaimed a neutralist policy for the isolated jungle kingdom repeatedly threatened by the Communists.

Vientiane, the administrative capital, at last word was reported calm after an initial outburst of shooting that killed two persons.

Pro-Western Premier Tiao Samsonth and his government were Vathana, 100 miles north of Vientiane.

All airline flights to Vientiane were cancelled, at least until Thursday. Telegraphic communication was suspended.

Vientiane radio has given no news broadcasts since an initial outburst of rebel communiques Tuesday.

Diplomatic advisers said there was no doubt the rebels were in firm control of Vientiane. Unconfirmed reports said they posted a guard around the airport and erected roadblocks in the city.

Rebel communiques announced the coup would seek "friendly relations and a good neighbor policy with all countries who are

Don't Retire, Keep Working, Hoover Advises at Age 86

NEW YORK (AP)—Don't retire and start discussing pills with the fellow next door.

Keep working—say at the rate of seven days a week.

Once in a while, if you ever get the chance and like such things as fishing, try to hook a few brook trout.

All that is a time-tested formula offered by a man who has found it works very well, indeed: Herbert Hoover.

The former Republican president is spryly observing his 86th birthday today—at his desk working as usual. He didn't have time for anything else much, as eight full-time secretaries will readily affirm.

Hoover, with some reluctance but with good-natured remarks, took time out Tuesday to answer questions in connection with what

Northwest Ohio Migrant Worker Camp Takes Shape

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A northwestern Ohio rest camp for the migrant workers who harvest vegetables and fruit appears to be a step closer.

Construction of such a camp will be recommended to the 1961 Legislature by a legislative study committee headed by Rep. Norman A. Furst, D-Cuyahoga.

Such a camp is proposed by the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation. It would operate between April 15 and Oct. 15. One of its purposes is to centralize welfare, health, education and other services presently scattered.

There was no estimate of its cost.

It would include cooking and eating shelters, laundry and toilet facilities parking and recreational areas.

The Furst committee will meet again in Bowling Green Aug. 30-31.

Study Panel Hears Arguments Pro, Con on Death Penalty

CLEVELAND (AP) — A statement from a young assistant law professor at Western Reserve University that he is "scared to death" that one day we are going to execute someone who is innocent, Tuesday highlighted testimony before the Ohio House-Senate Study Committee on Capital Punishment.

The statement was made by Prof. Lawrence Herman, who said when that happens "it will blow the top off capital punishment in Ohio."

Also speaking against the death penalty were Raymond Schults, rehabilitation officer at the Cleveland Workhouse; Ronald M. Benjamin, president of the Cuyahoga County Bar Association; and Richard A. Schermerhorn, sociology professor at Western Reserve University.

"Every time we have another homicide in Ohio it is further evidence capital punishment did not deter a murder," Schults said.

Benjamin argued that it is cheaper to keep a man in prison than to execute him. Quoting California figures he said it would cost less than $300 a year to keep someone alive in prison.

"Administrative costs of maintaining a death house, including personnel, can run up to $150,000 in six years," he said. "The real deterrent to crime is not the severity of punishment," he added, "but the certainty of apprehension."

Detective Inspector Richard Wagner, speaking in favor of capital punishment, said he believed firmly that executions were a deterrent to all crimes, not just murder.

Also speaking opposition to junking the electric chair was Police Chief Frank W. Story. He said every policeman he knew of was not too eager to have a human life taken and that wardens, who are supposed to preside at the executions, find it a constantly greater emotional burden.

"But we hope that an execution will stop many others from crimes that we don't even know about," he added.

Steel Mills May Be Ready To End Slump

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel industry may be about to pull out of its long slump, Iron Age Magazine said today.

Right now the metalworking weekly declared, "the best that can be said is that business has passed the low point."

"But a number of new, though relatively minor, developments in the steel business... indicate the market may be ready to move."

The magazine noted these signs in the market:

1. A slight pick up in orders which has raised the order rate to around 50 per cent of capacity;
2. The order increase has been largely offset by a dwindling of backlogs;
3. Most new orders are for quick delivery which may lead to a situation where mills cannot meet all rush business;
4. Forward buying is light and mills do not expect advance booking to increase until the limits of rush delivery are reached;
5. Flat-rolled business is relatively good and galvanized is even stronger; but hot-rolled has declined and tinplate is questionable.

October figures to be the biggest month of the second half, Iron Age said. It predicted operations for the month will possibly reach 70 to 73 per cent.

Youth Advises Akron Cops He Set Fire to 'Y'

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A young man walked into the police station and said "I've just set fire to the YMCA."

The officers, a little nonplussed, looked at the young man's papers and found the name Wilbert Stradford, age 20, address Akron YMCA.

It seemed to be worth a little investigation, so they telephoned the YMCA's desk clerk. Yes, there was a man of that name registered in room 625. Hold the phone, please.

A very short time later, the clerk shouted to the officers, "The room's on fire. Call the fire department."

A mattress and part of the carpet were damaged.

Ike To Keep Defense Fund 'Frozen Up'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said Monday that President Eisenhower intends to keep frozen 621 million dollars in defense funds voted by Congress.

Under those circumstances, Johnson told a news conference, the Democratic Congress wants to know whether it would be only spinning its wheels if it provides more funds for the accelerated national security program promised in both parties' platforms.

In a wide-ranging attack, Johnson, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, suggested that Eisenhower's submission of a 21-point legislative program to the bipartisan Congress session represents "panic that seeks to make up in one month for the lack of a record over 7½ years."

Johnson announced he had received from Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. a report on the financial policies the Pentagon intends to follow.

Johnson said a quick reading of the report indicates that there was no answer to his Aug. 2 inquiry as to what additional defense funds, if any, would be spent if they were provided by Congress.

Boom Is Seen Ahead For Farmer Utilities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A power company executive predicts farmer-owned electric power plants in Ohio will double their power transmission in the next decade.

Howard A. Cummings, executive secretary of Ohio Rural Electric Co-Operatives, Inc., said that, because of the move of both industry and residents to suburban areas, co-operatives power growth is averaging seven per cent annually. He said the co-operatives cover 65 per cent of Ohio's land area with 600 miles of transmission lines and 30,000 miles of distribution lines, serving 128,000 homes.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Let the 'Ghost' Do Cooking

DEAR ABBY: Six years ago I married a widower with five children, ranging in age from 2 to 12. I don't like to boast, but I am known for my cooking and housekeeping and the interest I take in my children's activities, such as P.T.A., scouting, sports, etc. I recently made 33 costumes for a church pageant.

I love these children, Abby, but all I ever hear about is their "real" mother. I am competing with a ghost. They worship her memory. Their father wants them to "remember" their mother, which is fine, but I practically raised them and I feel like hired help in my own home. What must I do to get a little appreciation?

NOT APPRECIATED
DEAR NOT: Take a little "vacation." Let the "ghost" do the cooking sewing and housekeeping for a week or two. You won't get appreciation by asking for it. We never miss the water till the well runs dry.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of love at first sight?

BOB
DEAR BOB: I think it's a wonderful time saver.

DEAR ABBY: My problem sounds so silly for a healthy, normal man of 44 I am almost ashamed to write it, but here goes: Whenever I eat anything at my Among items on display will be fertilizer spreaders, grain storage and handling equipment, milking equipment, seed and grain cleaning equipment and livestock waterers and feeders. Other products include bulk feed tanks and livestock supplies.

mother-in-law's place I get as sick as a dog. Not wishing to hurt her feelings, I've never told her. My wife knows it and she is stumped.

Now, you won't believe this, Abby, but last Sunday we were there for supper again. I said I wasn't hungry and wanted only a cup of coffee. When we got home I was just as sick on the coffee! My wife and the rest of her family eat there and nobody gets sick but me. How do you figure it?

HEALTHY BUT SICK
DEAR HEALTHY BUT SICK: Since you're the only one who gets sick from your mother-in-law's hospitality, you are probably allergic to something in her home. I hesitate to suggest what it could be, but a doctor might be able to help you track it down.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

Hammarckjold Tshombe Lumumba Kasa Vubu

STIRRERS OF THE CONGO CAULDRON—These four faces loom forward in all the Congo crises. UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold was caught in the middle when Katanga Premier Moise Tshombe said UN troops would have to fight their way into the secession-minded province. Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba said he would marshal troops from other provinces to send to Katanga. Congo President Joseph Kasavubu and his Abaku party voted censure of Lumumba, thus making it possible for Lumumba to lose the premiership for lack of a majority.

Money Can't Buy Friends

World Economic Research Institute reports these findings: Since 1953 the communist nations — Russia and Red China — have promised $3 billion in loans and grants to allied and neutral nations where they hope to get a foothold. But the reds have delivered only half a billion dollars in aid.

Since World War II the United States has actually delivered, not just promised, $60 billion in foreign aid. That is 120 times as much as the reds have delivered.

The difference between red promises and red performance is propaganda. Communist agents fill eager ears with the expectation of great things which never come to pass. Nations which receive U. S. aid have the dams, roads, mills, food, supplies and other benefits in their hands.

It might be assumed that, on any sane basis, the reds have no chance whatever to win the battle for the esteem of mankind. But in Latin America nations which have received U. S. aid show signs of pro-Castro sentiment. Among them are Mexico, Venezuela, Bolivia, Ecuador and Argentina.

It is an old truism that you cannot buy friends. But it could be supposed that tangible help might win firmer attachments than false promises. There is enough uncertainty, however, to cast doubts on the efficacy of money in unsettled areas.

companies face an aggregate deficit of $50 million yearly.

Off-shore drilling is three times as expensive as drilling on land. The companies pay heavily for equipment and are compelled to service installations by boat or helicopter.

In view of the oil glut now, it isn't clear why the industry doesn't keep offshore oil in reserve until it is more urgently needed.

Trouble teaches us two things; who our friends are, and who has been waiting to catch us in this position.

A Losing Proposition

In view of a report from the American Petroleum Institute, it might be assumed that off-shore oil and gas (chiefly in the Gulf of Mexico, is hardly worth fighting over. The Supreme Court recently decided ownership but on an intricate basis that will make the tracing of boundaries difficult.

During 14 years of probing in the waters off the Louisiana coast, says API, oil companies have invested $2.6 billion in equipment and drilling costs in that area alone.

Gas and oil discoveries have been abundant. But total income from production has been only $725 million, leaving a deficit of nearly $1.9 billion.

A Letter from Summer Camp

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—The doctor waited until Joe Grapple had rolled down his sleeve and buttoned the cuff.

"I'm afraid you're a bit tense again, Mr. Grapple," he said. "And your blood pressure is up. Are you having any business problems?"

"Naw, everything's okay at the old salt mine," said Joe. He hesitated a moment, then said reluctantly: "It's my daughter Doris."

Doris was one of the doctor's favorite patients. Into his mind flashed the picture of a 14-year-old girl with a prudent face and blue eyes serious beyond her age.

"She went to a summer camp last week," said Joe. "This is the first year I been able to scare up the dough to send her."

"Did she have an accident?" asked the doctor.

"Oh, no, Doc. Nothing like that."

"Well, then, what's bothering you?"

"Well, we got a letter from her today — the first one — and it's kinda got me worried."

"Well, you know the crazy letters most kids write from camp, all about the goofy things that happen to them," he said.

"Guys at the office for years have been showing me the letters their kids wrote from camp—and they were all funny. Well, Doris didn't write anything funny, and I wonder if there's something wrong."

"Do you want to show me the letter?" inquired the doctor. That was exactly what Joe wanted. He quickly pulled out the letter.

The doctor read:

"Dearest Daddy, 'I am having a wonderful time at Camp Birchbark. The food is fine, and I have made friends with a girl named Ruth."

"We go swimming and canoeing together, and I am learning leathework and I am making a couple of surprise presents for you and mother."

"Last night before I fell asleep I heard a whippoorwill outside in the dark, and it made me a little homesick. I thought of you and mother in the hot, sticky city and wondered if you miss me as much as I miss you."

"Ruth told me how much it costs to stay at this camp. I didn't know it was so expensive. I guess that's really why you didn't get the new car you wanted, isn't it, Daddy?"

"You and Mother have always done so much for me. I won't forget that either."

"Your loving daughter, Doris." The doctor folded the letter and handed it to Joe. Joe looked at him anxiously.

"You think she's all right, Doc?" he asked. "She don't write nothing screwball like the other kids you think she's okay?"

"I'd give everything in the world for a daughter who wrote me a letter like that," said the doctor. "Joe, you're the luckiest man alive."

Russian Gold No Mystery

By George Sokolsky

It would seem that Soviet Russia benefits from the ignorance of history, and geography, the schools nowadays teaching the social sciences. There are more than 1,000 years of Russian history that need to be known if we are to understand the Russian people. If we go into the story of the Scythians or the Uzbeks, we need even more history than that.

Thus when one writes about Russian gold—an immediate economic problem in the world today, he is not discussing something that is novel in 1960 or that started in 1917.

Gold has had a unique place in the history of man. No matter how taste has changed, gold has at least 6,000 years of history. Gold is rare; its color is attractive; it does not corrode or rust. Although Lenin ridiculed the value of gold, his government has always hoarded the metal.

C. H. V. Sutherland, in his book "Gold" estimates that during the past five centuries about 110,000,000 pounds of gold has been taken from the Earth for the use of man. This metal does not appear in quantities everywhere. Russia possesses three large areas that have produced gold in enormous quantities: the south Urals, the Lena fields and the Altai field.

Gold has always been found in what is now Russian territory, being exported into Persia, Greek and Byzantine civilizations. But it was in the 19th Century that the Siberian fields were exploited to a degree that made Russia the principal gold producer of the world at that time.

Sutherland writes: "... Alluvial gold from the Urals was generally of high purity... it made up the great bulk of Russian gold output down to the eighteen-thirties; for the years 1814 to 1839 the total yield has been put at over 175,000 pounds, with an annual average of 5,000 pounds or more. At this point, however, a decline set in, either because the alluvial gold had had its richest deposits removed or because attention was switched to new and very rich sources lying in the remote territory west of Lake Baikal in the valleys of the Altai Mountains."

"For here too there were numerous alluvial sites, the combined yield of which quickly surpassed that of the Ural region; 40,000 pounds were obtained in the decade 1830 to 1840, and the annual average rose thereafter very sharply to 13,000 pounds and, even higher, to 17,000 pounds..."

Today, we have no figures on the production of Russian gold. Sutherland estimates: "... But the bulk of this massive annual quantity — a quantity, each year, which it would have taken Roman miners more than a hundred years to extract from their deposits in Spain — comes from five areas in particular. Australia supplies just under 5 percent of the annual world total. From the United States there comes just over 6 percent. Russian output is veiled behind the curtain that hides so much else, but is put around 7 per cent. Canada furnishes over 15 per cent, and her figure may rise substantially with the discovery and exploitation of new goldfields in the Quebec region. And, finally, South Africa claims the astonishing figure of nearly 50 per cent..."

Of the known figures, about 80 per cent of all gold mined comes from the British Commonwealth. But in all these figures there remains the dubious quantity from Russian territory. There are no reliable statistics but estimates are possible, particularly in view of the prior knowledge.

Now, we come to the serious political problem in the Cold War of the Russian plan to establish a gold rouble producing a coin in international commerce which can be harder money than the American dollar. If you talk to an optimist on this subject, he will say that money is based on confidence and that whereas there is universal confidence in the American dollar, there is no confidence in the Russian rouble.

This is like the statement so often made by American businessmen—you no longer hear it—that Soviet Russia will never succeed as an industrial nation because the Russians lack the know-how. But when the Russians began to manufacture complicated machine these same Americans fell all over themselves, expressing their wonder.

So it is with gold. Suppose the Russians now flood world markets with gold roubles, the effect on our commerce, our productivity and our employment will be extremely severe.

Joe Smith Changes

COTTESBUFF, Neb. (AP) — Terdy Carpenter of "Joe Smith" fame went to another national political convention this year, but under different circumstances than in 1956.

Instead of being a delegate to the Republican National Convention in Chicago, Carpenter was the escort of his wife, a Nebraska delegate to the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles.

The state senator, who nominated the mythical "Joe Smith" for vice president at the Republican convention in 1956, lost not only his bid for the Republican nomination for governor in the May primary but also failed to make the grade as Republican delegate.

Dieting Is Worth Effort

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Is dieting really worth the effort?

You bet it is!

It's tough to remain on a diet, I'll concede. In fact, up to 80 per cent of those who embark upon diet programs don't follow them through.

Persons with emotional problems are much more likely to quit than are reasonable stable individuals.

Just how successful your own weight reduction program will be, depends upon whether you have set a realistic goal for yourself and upon the importance you attach to food and eating.

In case you may be wavering in your determination to diet, let us, as the politicians say, look at the record.

Among persons between the ages of 45 and 50, as little as ten chances of death by eight per cent above the normal.

Thirty extra pounds mean a 28 per cent increase in chance of death. And you more than double your chances of dying (a 56 per cent jump) if you are carrying around 50 excess pounds.

The greater the amount of overweight, the higher the mortality rate. It's that simple.

Let's look at individual diseases.

The death rate from heart disease for obese men between 25 and 74 is 42 per cent above normal. The women fare even worse. For obese females in this same age bracket, the heart disease death rate is 75 per cent above normal.

Advanced atherosclerosis is three times more prevalent in obese persons than in those who are pertension is twice as frequent among the obese as among those of normal diet.

Diabetes is another example. The death rate from this disease among obese men and women is nearly four times as high as for those of normal or average weight.

You are more likely to get varicose veins and to suffer from gallbladder and gallstone trouble if you are fat.

Also, it will be more difficult for you to recover from acute infections such as pneumonia if you are overweight.

I could go on and on, but I think you get the point.

Does it pay to take off these excess pounds?

It sure does. It pays off in the best way possible — a longer, healthier life.

Question and Answer
Mr. M. J.: Can distemper be passed along to a person who is in contact with a dog that has this disease?

Answer: Ordinarily, the virus of distemper in dogs does not affect human beings.

Because of gravity, a fat man can lose half a pound by morning from Washington D. C., To Ouito, Ecuador.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress' renewed session — which turned into a political Donnybrook right from its start—will be the toughest test of Sen. Lyndon Johnson's leadership.

The tall Texan, often called the most able Senate leader in the 20th century because of his ability in getting warring factions to work together to get things done, has his hands full this time.

Johnson, for the first time, is playing a dual role. He is not only captain of the Democratic-run Senate but is the Democrats' vice-presidential candidate.

He and his running mate, Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democrats' presidential nominee, came back to work with some ideas on what they hoped to get done before their election campaign gets underway in earnest in September.

Because the session had been planned to last only three weeks they would have to work fast and the number of pieces of legislation they could hope to get through would have to be fairly limited.

Then Monday President Eisenhower handed a long list of things he wanted done. It would be impossible, if Congress followed its usual pace, to get all of them through in three weeks.

Eisenhower was aware of this when he said "I urge that we stay on the job until it is done, certainly we cannot adjourn the public interest."

But for one very obvious reason Congress isn't likely to stay at work very far into September. All House seats and one-third of the Senate seats are at stake in November and the members want to get back home to campaign.

But if the Democrats, led by Johnson, ignore much of what Eisenhower wants, the Republicans will have a campaign argument that the Democrats were big on promises, short on performance.

Kennedy quickly indicated, but in very oblique language, that Eisenhower's basketful of suggestions was a political move.

The Massachusetts senator said: "A presidential message calling for action on bills previously vetoed, and complaining about spending after a broad series of demands, is not unexpected in an election year — but if it can be backed up with Republican cooperation and leadership, this will be a productive and constructive session."

Johnson also gave a political twist to the Eisenhower message. He said the President appears to be trying to "embrace vast portions of the Democratic platform."

What makes the whole business even more political is that five of the six most important men in the presidential campaign are all sitting in the Senate.

Besides Johnson and Kennedy, they are Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential candidate; Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, chairman of the Republican National Committee, and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Nixon's running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, the Republican vice presidential candidate, is U. S. ambassador to the United Nations.

This is the first time in years when Congress, returning to work after the political convulsions, could be judged by the voters before Election Day on how hard they tried to make good on the promises in their party platforms.

Every move in these next few weeks will be—or will be suspected of being—somehow hooked into political motives.

For all the following time until November both parties will be blaming each other for any shortcomings, real or alleged.

Johnson, as Senate leader, has the task of trying to get Democrats and Republicans to work together under circumstances different from any he has faced since taking over the leadership in 1955.

Since Kennedy and Nixon have an equal stake in the outcome, meaning election in November, the role each of them plays will be scrutinized harder than any they have played in the past.

If you have hopes for great accomplishments, keep your fingers crossed.

Try and Stop Me

DURING MARK TWAIN'S early days in the newspaper business in Missouri, he received a letter from a subscriber stating that he had found a spider in his paper, and asking if this was an omen of good or bad luck. Twain replied, "Finding a spider in your paper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

Labor Day Upturn Is Anticipated

But Fingers Crossed In Some Quarters For Any Big Boom

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen—and the money managers—are laying plans for the traditional upturn after Labor Day—but this time with fingers crossed.

They're getting set for an increase in buying demand—but that depends on how consumers feel and also on how businessmen themselves feel about the outlook for fall.

The Federal Reserve Board will make more bank credit available by Labor Day.

Usually more credit is sought in the fall to finance retail preparations for back-to-school and Christmas business, and to finance the progress of crops from the fields and orchards to the grocery shelves.

Merchants expect big things from the back to school business.

The advance guard of the war babies is crowding colleges. The first of the big postwar baby crop will be entering high schools. Those born in 1945, when the birth rate was high, will be facing first-grade teachers.

As any parent knows outfitting children grows more expensive at each stage of education.

The food business stoutly predicts steadily increasing consumption and spending for food. And the increased processing and selling should call for more credit.

The auto industry is starting to produce its 1961 models. Steel, rubber, glass and other suppliers hope for more business soon. But the vogue for compact cars, using less materials, will cut into demand of these primary industries.

This has kept new orders for steel lower than first hoped. But the industry is now looking for October to be its biggest month, when new car production will be in full swing.

After that it's up to the car buyers.

Consumers have kept their spending in general at a high rate. What the consumer may do this fall, however, worries some. They cite the nervous stock market, the squeeze on business profits, layoffs here and there and stubborn unemployment totals as offering a threat to continued strong confidence on the part of the buying and borrowing public.

Goldwater Fails To Halt Picket Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), the Democratic presidential nominee, Monday steered a picketing bill to swift approval by a Senate subcommittee after a brief brush with Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

Goldwater objected on the ground there was no quorum, to Kennedy's calling the Labor subcommittee into session. But Goldwater, an opponent of the bill, stayed out of the hearing room where his presence would have made a quorum.

Kennedy, Democratic presidential nominee and chairman of the subcommittee, promised organized labor last year that he would push for legislation relaxing restrictions against picketing of construction projects.

The legislation would overcome a 1952 Supreme Court ruling banning picketing of construction projects where more than one contractor is involved.

The court ruled that such picketing came under the Taft-Hartley Act prohibition of secondary boycotts. A secondary boycott ordinarily is defined as pressure by a union against a neutral concern to try to keep it from doing business with an employer involved in a dispute with the union.

The bill now goes to the full Labor Committee, which may consider it this week. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Senate Democratic leader and Kennedy's running mate, has given it high priority for consideration in the Senate.

15th Ohio Polio Case Is Reported

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Three new polio cases were reported in Ohio in the past week, the State Health Department reports.

The state's total increases only by two, however, because of a change in diagnosis of a case reported earlier as polio in Montgomery County. The total for the year now is 15 cases, with no deaths reported.

The latest cases were reported from Cuyahoga County, which has reported a total of four; Lucas County, which now has two, and Medina County.

Two of the new cases involve paralysis, and two of the victims had received polio shots.

At this time last year, more than 50 cases had been noted in Ohio.

Shop owners in Switzerland refuse to bargain over prices. Costs of goods are legally marked and that is the only price the shop owner will demand.

Ohio GOP Congressman's Wife Granted Divorce

SANDUSKY Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Maxine Baumhart today was granted a divorce from her husband, Rep. A. D. Baumhart Jr.

Rep. Baumhart, Vermilion Republican, did not contest the divorce. The couple, married since Nov. 23, 1942, have one son, Albert D. Baumhart III, 17.

Rep. Baumhart is finishing his third consecutive term in Congress and is not running for reelection.

Danny Kaye Shows Reasons Why He Is Great Comedian

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—You really have to see Danny Kaye working before a live breathing audience to see what makes him unique.

Unlike most of his fellow stars he uses no hard-sell, no jokes about himself. He comes out in sport coat and slacks. He uses no props except his agile, expressive hands. There isn't the slightest tinge of blue in any of his material.

He comes out with the "git-gat-gittle" song he has been doing for 20 years. He follows with other standards: "Dena," "Balling the Jack," "Minnie the Moocher." He does an imitation of a Democratic orator that harks back hilariously to Los Angeles in July.

This fall, Kaye will make his debut as a live entertainer in television. He makes a movie only every year or two.

Despite such little exposure, he remains among the show biz elite. "It's not that I don't like to work," he said. "I knew from the start of my career that I wouldn't do more than one picture a year.

I would do more if I were an actor. But I'm not. I'm a very specialized kind of guy, and it's hard to find material for me.

"I haven't had anything against TV. I've just waited until TV was ready for me, until I could be given the time I needed for preparation."

Another reason for the trend of Danny's career is the kind of a guy he is. He doesn't need the constant gratification of an audience, as do Red Skelton and Jerry Lewis. He has been in all phases of show business but that is not his sole life.

He can get on time-consuming passions, such as his world tour for the United Nations Children's program which resulted in a celebrated filmed TV documentary.

His latest love is the wild blue yonder.

"That's what I've been doing for the past year," he explained. "That's why I haven't been working."

Now he's a full-fledged flier and comes down to earth only when necessary.

Vandalism Claimed in Utility Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Acts of vandalism against the strikebound East Ohio Gas Co. will be investigated by the striking Natural Gas Workers Union, officials of the union said Tuesday night.

John D. Nagle, president of the union, denied that the union was responsible for shutting off outside master valves in two Akron locations Tuesday, affecting 120 persons in apartment and government housing projects. Service was restored.

The vandalism was reported as Federal Mediator Gilbert F. Seldin summoned negotiators to a meeting at the Federal Building here Thursday afternoon.

There have been no negotiations since the strike of 2,800 gas company employees started at 12:01 a.m. Monday.

The union is seeking an increase of 12 cents an hour in a one-year contract. The company favors a two-year contract and a 10.13 cents-an-hour increase.

East Ohio says it is maintaining service to some 800,000 customers in northeastern Ohio. Some 800 administrative and supervisory employees are handling emergency calls, the firm said.

Mrs. Nellie Mowery at the Camp Grounds, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Luckhart, Diane, Dacia and Brent, Mrs. Corilla Pontius, Mr. Erving Beougher, Mr. and Mrs. David Luckhart, Tania Renee and Marlon were supper guests.

Mrs. Joyce Bryant and daughters Roxan and Carol Beth, of Washington, D. C., spent several days last week with her sister, Mrs. Ann Luckhart and family in our valley.

300 Trainmen Strike, Idling 12,000 Others

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Some 300 trainmen struck the Monongahela connecting railroad today in a contract dispute idling 12,000 steel workers at the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. Pittsburgh works.

A 21-hour negotiating session failed to avert the strike.

The strikers are members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

A spokesman said the union is seeking a contract similar to that signed by the United Steelworkers and the basic steel industry.

The railroad serves two J&L plants in Pittsburgh. Company officials said the plant can't operate without the railroad, a subsidiary which hauls materials and supplies in the plants.

About 700 other railroad employees were idled by the strike.

A spokesman for the railroad said a package deal equivalent to the basic steel settlement already has been offered to the trainmen. The brotherhood, however, says the offer falls short of the steel

Exact issues in the dispute have not been made public.

Sky-High Pantry

PESHATIN, Wash. (AP)—When an old tree came tumbling down in the Sybern Tree Farm it sounded more like an earthquake in the pantry than the demise of a tall old tree.

Startled bystanders found two granite-ware frying pans, seven rusty tin plates and four tin cups, wired together and attached to a limb. It was an outfit such as sheepherders used in pioneer days.

It had been cached about 70 feet up and the hole of the tree had grown completely over the wire. Frank Lane, a forest engineer, estimated the kitchenware had been roosting in the tree for 65 or 70 years.

Famed Taft Clan Plans Pilgrimage

MENDON, Mass. (AP) — The illustrious and far-flung Taft clan makes a pilgrimage next week to the little farm town where it first took root in America.

The occasion is the traditional "Taft Gathering" on Aug. 20 when all available members of the clan get together to pay homage to their common ancestor, Robert Taft, who settled in Mendon 281 years ago.

The original Taft was a humble carpenter and farmer who came with his wife, Sarah, from the British Isles to carve a new home out of the southern Massachusetts wilderness in 1679.

His distinguished recent descendants have included:

William Howard Taft, the 27th president of the United States and later its chief justice.

Robert A. Taft, the outspoken, longtime "Mr. Republican" in the U.S. Senate.

Charles P. Taft II, former mayor of Cincinnati and president of the old federal (now national) Council of Churches of Christ.

Ezra Taft, secretary of war and attorney general in President Grant's cabinet, who transplanted the best known branch of the Taft clan from Vermont to its current stronghold in Cincinnati in 1838.

Alphonso was one of the moving spirits behind the first Taft gathering in 1974. They have been held irregularly ever since. The last was in 1954.

No one is sure precisely where in the British Isles the original Taft hailed from. It may have been England, Wales or Ireland.

Robert and Sarah arrived in the colonies in 1678, staying for a time in the coastal town of Braintree before moving to what was then called "Mendham" in the wild interior.

One of Robert's great-grandsons, Aaron, moved to West Townsend, Vt., around 1800 to become the grandfather of Alphonso, the Taft who wandered even farther afield to establish the dynasty in Ohio.

Alphonso's sons added luster to the name.

One, William Howard, became president of the United States. Another, Charles Phelps, built the Cincinnati Times-Star, purchased two years ago by the Cincinnati Post, into one of the most influential newspapers in the middle West. A third, Horace Dutton, founded the Taft School, a preparatory academy in Watertown, Conn.

Another big Taft enterprise is the Taft Broadcasting Co. in which 24 members of the Taft and related Ingalls families are involved. They have stations in Cincinnati, Columbus, Lexington, Ky., and Birmingham, Ala.

The big event on this year's program is dedication (by Charles P. Taft II) of a memorial plaque to mark the site of the long since vanished homestead of the original Taft.

The memorial site was donated by Carleton Goss, one of the many Taft descendants still living in the Mendon area. The clan began gathering funds for the plaque at the first reunion in 1874.

Antarctic Pact Locked In Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A U.S.-sponsored treaty for international development of the antarctic continent was tied Monday in a Senate debate over whether it would create a possible new threat from the Soviet Union.

Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) argued that it would, and said he will move for a vote to put off action until a new administration can look it over next year.

But Sen. Gale W. McGee (D-Wyo.) noted that the Soviets are already in Antarctica and challenged the critics of the treaty to say whether they would vote to "reject them by force."

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, was prepared to carry on the floor fight against ratification of the treaty signed by the United States, the Soviet Union and 10 other nations.

Russell has contended the treaty "ties the hands of the United States" and could mean signing away to the Soviet Union and Red China of rights he said they couldn't otherwise claim "in any shape or manner."

The treaty was the first official item of business to come before the reconvened Senate session. President Eisenhower Monday requested earlier requests for its ratification.

QUIT PRINCESS — This is Thomas Cronin, the sought-after butler who quit the household of Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones in London after only three weeks. Cronin, who used to butle for John Hay Whitney when Whitney was U.S. ambassador, said Armstrong-Jones took over the help-hiring and wage paying duties which should be a butler's prerogative.

EARL LEWIS

In co-operation with J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director, this paper is running descriptive articles on the criminals wanted by the FBI.

EARL LEWIS is being sought by the FBI for bank robbery. Described by the FBI as a con man and "loner," Lewis is alleged to have entered the Merchants National Bank in Chicago on Dec. 15, 1958, and identified himself as the holder of a safety deposit box who had lost his key.

Lewis allegedly managed to convince bank employees that he was the customer in whose name the box was rented. It was then drilled open and the contents, approximately $2,840, were removed and surrendered to the self-styled bank customer.

A Federal warrant was issued on May 6, 1959, at Chicago, charging Lewis with bank robbery. Prior to the crime for which he is being sought, Lewis had been convicted for possession of narcotics, confidence game, larceny and petty larceny.

The wanted man, also known as Robert Earl Brown, Carl Lewis, Earl L. Lewis and Earl Lonnie Lewis, has been employed as bus boy, janitor, laborer, shoeshine boy and waiter.

Lewis, who may be a user of narcotics, is reportedly an avid gambler and may wear a mustache. He may be armed and should be considered dangerous.

DESCRIPTION: Age, 32; Born, Chicago (not supported by birth records); Height, 5 feet 10 inches to 5 feet 11 inches; Weight, 140 to 150; Build, slender; Hair, black, kinky; Eyes, brown; Complexion, medium.

INFORMATION concerning fugitive should be telephoned to the nearest FBI office. Distributed by King Features Syndicate

Doctor Ready For Speed Test

500 Mph. in Auto Is Medic's Goal

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — The somewhat paunchy physician said quietly: "I'm not thinking about fear...but I know there is a certain element of chance."

You might think Dr. Nathan Ostich, a 50-year-old Los Angeles general practitioner, was preparing for a major operation.

In a way, he was. The physician's fingers carefully removed a screw from a bolt in the "Flying Caduceus," his 8,930 horsepower, red and black, missile-nosed racer.

But he wasn't in an operating room. He was under a canopy on the blistering Salt Flats of western Utah where he hopes Thursday to drive a racing car faster than any man on earth—about 500 miles an hour.

The doctor spent two days on the flats checking his car before he made a couple of test runs at about 140 m.p.h. Tuesday.

The jet-engine racer's design is radical. The nose is patterned after a missile cone. The body is round and the four-foot high wheels and tired uncovered to eliminate wind resistance.

"The wheels, each carved out of a 750-pound block of aluminum, will act like gyros," said the physician. "We hope they will keep the car straight. At that high speed you can't turn the car if it goes into a skid. That's why we have the parachutes."

"If something goes wrong at 500 miles an hour and I have to pop the chute, I'll get 1 1/2 Gs of deceleration (9,000 pounds pressure on his 5-9 1/2, 193 lb body). Then when the second chute goes, I'll get another G (5,000 to 6,000 pounds)."

Jackson Nine Nips Hillsboro In Tourney

The Jackson Merchants defeated the Hillsboro Merchants, 3-1, last night at Chillicothe to earn a berth in the District No 8 Softball Tournament finals.

The Jackson nine will meet River Oil of Chillicothe at 8 p. m. Thursday. River Oil, winning the top bracket of the tourney, needs only one victory to wrap up the district championship.

Jackson scored two runs in the first inning and one in the seventh to ice loser bracket honors. Hillsboro got its single run in the sixth.

Colby, fanning one and walking one, was the winning hurler. Fleisher and Schraw tossed for Hillsboro. Jackson cracked two extra-base blows, with Turner connecting for a triple and Stewart a double.

8 Trotters Eye $50,000 Purse

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — The $50,000 American Trotting Championship, to decide this country's representative in the International Trot, will be contested at Roosevelt Raceway here Saturday night.

The purse and the distance of the race — a mile and a quarter — are the same as for the International, which will be held at the Westbury track on Aug. 20, the following Saturday.

The field of eight for the American includes Steamin' Demon, Senator Frost, Darn Safe, Tyson, Scott, Su Mack Lad, Silver Song, Air Record and Trader Horn.

The first two are Ohio-owned horses. Steamin' Demon is owned by George W. VanCamp of Circleville and Senator Frost by Wayne Galvin of Wilmington.

Trader Horn, who will be driven by Billy Houghton, finished third in last year's International behind Jamin of France and Tornese of Italy.

According to their preformance this season, the top trotters in the American are Steamin' Demon, who will be driven by George Phalen; Senator Frost (Dick Buxton); Su Mack Lad (Stanley Dancer) and Air Record (Jimmy Cruise).

Steamin' Demon has four victories and one second-place finish in seven races this season. Senator Frost and Air Record have six triumphs in eleven races and Su Mack Lad has won five of twelve contests.

Trader Horn has failed to win in seven outings. Tyson Scott, with Buck Minniear in the sulky, has won three of sixteen races. Silver Song, who will be handled by Howard Camden, has won three of nine tests and Darn Safe has triumphed in two of twelve.

Except of Senator Frost and Trader Horn, each of the listed starters in the American has been racing regularly the last two months. Senator Frost, who was lame for several weeks, returned to competition last Thursday and finished seventh. The race was won by Tie Silk, Canada's representative in the International, ported to be rapidly rounding into top shape for the American.

The 8-year-old Trader Horn has been sidelined with a leg injury since July 2. Houghton says the horse has now reached peak condition and should be fit for the American.

Trader Horn earned $144,319 in purses last year and ranks second to Darn Safe in total purse money earned by an active trotter. Darn Safe, a 9-year-old gelding, has earned $386,078 to $359,376 for the Trader.

In addition to Jamin, Tie Silk and Tornese, the foreign representatives in the International will be Iceare, the co-champion of Italy; Hairoos of Holland, the current European champion; Ruder Konge, the Danish titleholder, and Iton, the Austrian champion.

7 Break Par In Ohio's Publinx Test

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The 27th Ohio Public Links Golf Championship headed into its second round today with seven par - breakers leading the way.

A host of tournament-tested talent was on the heels of the leaders and the lowest scoring championship race in years was in prospect.

Out front at the end of the first 18 were 40-year-old Vic Banish, a precision grinder in a motor plant at Warren, and 35-year-old James Valardo, a tool crib attendant from Cleveland. Each scored a 69, three under par for Chippewa Country Club's 6,391-yard par 72 layout.

Next, with a 70 was 22-year-old Billy Santor of Youngstown a senior at Ohio University. Another stroke back at 71 were former champion Len Pietras of Toledo 17-year-old Tom Welskopf Jr., of Maple Heights, the state Jaycee champion; Anthony J. Popp, 23-year-old steel plant worker from Steubenville, and 19-year-old Joe Campana Jr., of Warren, a Youngstown University student.

Among seven who matched par were defending champion Art Todd of Columbus and former winner Don Nist Jr., state representative from Canton.

After today's 18-hole round the field will be cut to the low 60 and ties and indications were a score of 151 or 152 would be necessary to escape the cutoff.

Tarleton Softballers Down Washington

The Tarleton softball team rolled to a 14-3 win over Washington Twp. during the weekend on the winner's diamond.

W. Van Fossen cracked two doubles and B. Van Fossen one for Tarleton. Lutz and Weaver poled triples for the losers.

Reds, Giants Drowned Out Of Cincy Tilt

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds and San Francisco Giants would have had to use water wings to play the second game of their series Tuesday night.

The three-hour storm which hit Cincinnati washed out the tilt and the rain was so heavy the idle players couldn't even scatter to their homes, hotels or a movie. They couldn't get out of Crosley Field.

Reds' officials announced immediately the game would be played Friday, Sept. 9, as part of a two-night doubleheader.

The postponement, coming so early in the week, didn't figure to help the Cincinnati pitching staff face its busy weekend ahead. There are doubleheaders scheduled for both Sunday and Monday.

The rainout apparently meant a delay in giving Cincinnati fans their first look at youthful Jim Maloney. Manager Fred Hutchinson indicated he'd start Bob Purkey tonight. He originally had planned to use Purkey Tuesday night and come back with either Maloney or Cal McLish tonight.

Maloney, one of the recent Red-leg recalls, has made two starts but both have been on the road. He lost both encounters but has received rave notices for his pitching aplomb and his fast ball.

Georgia Rookie Eyes Browns Spot

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Fred Murphy, a rookie from Georgia Tech, is being given a test at the slot end by the Cleveland Browns while Rich Kreitling limps on a tender ankle.

Murphy, who stands 6-3 and weighs 205 pounds, made a couple of good catches and gave a good over-all performance as the lone man in the slot during Monday's practice. He also did most of the slot running Tuesday.

Kreitling is expected to assume at least part of the load in the exhibition game in Detroit against the Lions Saturday night. He suffered a sprained ankle in last Saturday's scrimmage.

Appeal Fails To Help Martin

CINCINNATI (AP) — The bone-breaking punch that Cincinnati Reds' second baseman Billy Martin gave pitcher Jim Brewer of the Chicago Cubs last Thursday still is going to cost him $500.

Martin has served out the five-day suspension that went with the fine.

National League President Warren C. Giles announced Tuesday night after a hearing requested by Martin that the penalties would stand. He said he heard nothing at the hearing that would cause him to change his mind about the fine and suspension.

Dayton, Columbus Battle for Crown

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Dayton National Cash Register takes on Columbus Jan Ross today for the championship of the Ohio Girls Double Elimination Softball Tournament.

Jan Ross advanced to the finals Tuesday by beating Wooster 6-3 in eight innings, then going on to down Oberlin 3-1 in the regulation seven frames.

Dayton, with an undefeated record in the tournament needs only win one game to earn the crown. If Jan Ross wins the first game, a second will be played to determine the champion.

Dayton beat the Columbus team 3-1 earlier in the competition.

Harry Craft, who replaced Lou Boudreau as Kansas City manager in 1957, now is a coach under Boudreau who is managing the Chicago Cubs.

Coke had tied the score at 4-4 in the fifth. The win wrapped up the league championship for the Elksmen who also won the loop's first round.

In a second Little League game yesterday, Savings Bank tripped Ward's Market, 17-5. The Kiwanis at Ashville Babe Ruth test was postponed due to a wet diamond.

The champion Elks of Manager Blenn Stevenson scored two runs in the second, two in the fifth and five in the explosive eighth.

COCA COLA, managed by Lee Smith and Chet Iery, fashioned a mighty rally in the fifth by cracking five hits for its entire four-run production.

Buddy Strehle of the Elks and Chet Hill of Coke hooked up in a real mound battle. The winners found the mark for seven hits and the losers banged five. Dean relieved Strehle in the fifth.

Watson's double sparked the Elks in their two-run second frame and singles by Strehle and Reichelderfer led the way for two more in the fifth.

A single by Palmer, walks by Herron, Reichelderfer and An-kron and Leatherwood's circuit blast opened the Elks gate in the eighth.

Coca Cola's formidable rally in the fifth was sparked by Byrd's double, consecutive singles by George Hill, Steve Dade and Larry Sykes and another one-bagger by Dave Iery.

Savings Bank exploded for 10 runs in the fourth inning to walk away from Ward's. The winners socked 12 hits in taking the decision.

WARD'S was held to seven hits and all five of the Market runs came in the first two innings. Hull worked on the mound for Savings Bank and Brown, Hill and Tootle shared pitching duties for Ward's.

Three games are scheduled today providing the diamonds are not too muddy. At 5:15 p. m. it's Second National Bank vs Lincoln Plastic on the Little League diamond and Circleville Oil vs Jaycees on the softball diamond.

General Electric, holding first place in the Babe Ruth second round, is slated to meet second place Kiwanis at 7:30 p. m. on the softball diamond.

Vinegar Bend Sparkles for Pirate Crew

Fifth Win in Row Chalked by Mizell As Cubs Falter, 7-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Back in 1952 the sports writers covering the major league spring camps voted a tall, raw-boned youngster named Wilmer Mizell the most likely to succeed.

He started this season with an indifferent lifetime record of 68 victories against 67 defeats.

The Cardinals thought so little of him after he had won one game and lost three that last May 28 they swapped him to the Pittsburgh Pirates for a couple of their farmhands.

Since joining the pennant-hungry Pirates Vinegar Bend has won eight games and lost two. He has won five in a row, completed four straight, and until the Chicago Cubs pushed a run across against him in the fifth inning Tuesday night he had pitched 30 1-3 scoreless innings.

He won the game, 7-1, allowing only five hits, and the Bucs retained their five-game lead in the National League race.

The cast of characters in the runner-up spot switched, though. Milwaukee, which had been in second place, lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 while the erstwhile third-place Cardinals were taking a doubleheader from the Phillies 5-4 and 6-0 to leap frog into second. San Francisco was rained out at Cincinnati.

A couple of veterans largely was responsible for the Cardinals' twin triumphs. Stan Musial cracked a pair of doubles in the first game, scored each time, and knocked in another run with a sacrifice fly.

The second game was all Curt Simmons, who turned in his fourth victory against two defeats, and his third over his former teammates.

Lindy McDaniel, was credited with his ninth victory in 12 decisions in the first game.

Johany Podres, on the mound for Los Angeles, had everything under control for eight innings. He had fanned 10, walked only two, and had allowed the Braves only five hits.

Then the roof started to sag. Eddie Mathews opened the ninth with his 24th home run. Podres got the next two batters, but Billy Bruton doubled and Johnny Logan and Felix Mantilla singled and the Dodger lead was cut to one run. Larry Sherry came in to get the third out and preserve Podres' 10th victory.

Remember Don Larsen? He's the fellow who pitched the only perfect World Series game in history. Did it for the New York Yankees on a bright October afternoon in 1946. Beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 2-0.

He hung around with the Yankees through the 1959 season, in which he won six games and lost seven, but the New York club finally gave up on him. They sent him to Kansas City in a seven-player deal in December 1959.

He had lost his last six games with the Yankees in 1959, and the Senators had taken the with Kansas City he was no better, so he was sent down to the minors on July 8 this year. The A's brought him back July 29.

But he had run up six more major league defeats for an even dozen straight until Tuesday night, when he defeated Washington, 8-3, in the second game of a doubleheader. It was the first game he had won since he beat Detroit for the Yankees June 13, 1959. He tied after 7 1-3 innings and was relieved by Ken Johnson.

The Senators had taken the first game 3-1 in 12 innings, as the league-leading Yankees were stopping the White Sox 7-4, the Baltimore Orioles were blanking Detroit 3-0 and Cleveland was downing Boston 6-3.

10 Teams Remain In Legion Tourney

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Ten teams went into the third round of the double-elimination Ohio American Legion baseball tournament today. At least three of them would fall by the wayside during the day's competition, joining the four ousted Tuesday.

In the morning games, Elyria battled Piqua, Columbus met Findlay and Akron went against Cleveland. All these teams already have lost one game and one more loss will eliminate them from competition. In the afternoon, the undefeated teams (all 2-0) go against each other, Cincinnati facing Steubenville and Lima meeting Bridgeport.

Springfield Collision Takes Its Third Life

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Edward Donald Hopper, 39, of Catawba has become the third victim of a head-on collision July 28. He died Tuesday of injuries received when the station wagon he was driving collided with another vehicle on a county road northeast of here. He was the manager of a Pony League baseball team. Two members of the team died in the accident.

Ted Williams Shoots for Homer Mark

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ted Williams who keeps on rolling along despite his 41 years, has a chance tonight to take over undisputed possession of third place among the all-time home run hitters.

The Boston Red Sox left fielder Tuesday night clouted the 511th homer of his major league career in the fifth inning of the opener of a three-game series with the Cleveland Indians. That tied him with Mel Ott for third on the all-time list behind Babe Ruth and Jimmy Fox.

Williams' smash over the right field fence with two out and the bases bare was his 19th home run of the season. It tied the score at 3-3, but the Indians, sparked by two-run homers by Tito Francona and Vic Power, took a 6-3 decision.

It was against the Indians here on June 17 that the Splendid Splinter joined the charmed circle by hitting the 500th homer of his career. On that occasion he wore a wide grin as he circled the bases, but Tuesday night he had a determined expression as he made the same trip.

His latest clout was off Jim Perry, a 24-year-old right-hander, who is the winningest pitcher in the American League with 14 victories against five defeats.

Perry gave up seven hits, struck out four batters and walked five in going the distance.

The loser was Billy Monbouquette, the first of three Boston pitchers, who now has a 12-9 record.

The victory, which snapped a three-game losing streak for the Indians, was their second under Manager Jimmie Dykes and both were turned in by Perry. The young right-hander also has gained four of the Tribe's last six victories and five of their last nine.

The famous boardwalk of Atlantic City originated in 1806.

HITTING IMPROVES - - - By Alan Mayer

Michigan Break-Away Runner May Be Key to All-Star Win

CHICAGO (AP) — If the All-Stars have a surprise to tantalize the seasoned Baltimore Colts Friday night, it may be in the person of Walter Beach.

Beach probably is the best break-away runner Head Coach Otto Graham has — and speed is essential if the graduated collegians hope to score.

Graham likes to hark back to the 1958 game, his first as All-Star coach. His team ran up the biggest score in the mid-summer football series by trimming the Detroit Lions 35-19. Fleet Bob Mitchell of Illinois took two flat passes from Michigan State's Jim Ninowski for touchdown runs of 84 and 18 yards to insure the All-Star victory.

"We just don't have a Mitchell this time," Graham keeps repeating. But the 25-year-old Beach may be close to the answer.

Beach, who will play pro football for the Toronto Argonauts, gained 2,968 yards rushing and scored 43 touchdowns in his varsity career at Central Michigan. And, as a member of the track team, the 180-pounder tied the school record for 100 yards in :09.7. Shoot him some flat passes and he may pull a Mitchell.

Beach is only one of four fast halfbacks who also rank as fine pass receivers. The others are Ed Kovacs of Cincinnati, Dick Bass of College of Pacific and Prentice Gault of Oklahoma.

Captain for the All-Stars on offense will be Mike McGee, 230-pound guard from Duke, Captain on defense will be Jim Houston, 220-pound end from Ohio State.

The starting quarterback is uncertain. Graham can select from George Izo of Notre Dame, Pete Hall of Marquette and Don Meredith of Southern Methodist — all exceptional passers.

The game in Soldier Field will be televised and broadcast via ABC beginning at 9 p.m. EST. The Colts are rated an 18-point favorite.

Jets Finally Beat Wings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A siege of the mumps didn't harm Toronto rightfielder Jim King.

He returned to the Leafs' lineup Tuesday night and promptly helped beat the Miami Marlins in both ends of an International League doubleheader 4-2 and 10-9. His single broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth inning of the opener. In the nightcap he hit a pinch hit grand slam homer in the sixth inning and later drove in the tying runs in a wild ninth inning rally.

Columbus broke a eight-game losing string at the hands of the Rochester Red Wings with a 5-1, 11-inning victory, while Jersey City and Montreal split a doubleheader. The Reds won 9-6, then lost 1-0. Richmond beat Buffalo for the eighth straight time, 3-1.

Roman Mejias' single off reliever Bob Tiefenauer scored the first two runs in Columbus' 11th inning rally and Charlie Brockell's double, after a half hour rain delay, off reliever Tom Hurd got the final two. Jim Umbricht won, giving seven hits, including a homer to Leon Wagner. Willard Schmidt pitched hitless ball for the first 6-2-2 innings for the Red Wings.

MARIETTA Ohio (AP) — Herman Edwin Edwards, 76, of Wheeling, W. Va., was killed Tuesday when the light plane he was flying crashed into a wooded area several miles east of Marietta. A heavy rainstorm was lighting the area at the time.
